Words from a Child

These are the examples of what should be
The life of our friends, sweet animals.
Be it on land, on air or in the sea.
They should be loved, protected and cherished,
Just like the life that we so wish.

Dearest Heaven, Dear Lord of Karma
Please do love and care for all creatures
For it breaks my heart to see their plight.
I cannot bear to see them suffer.

There're plenty places in Heaven above
Take them all up, and give them love.
This's my little prayer for all beings:

Just your little Love and Compassion.
May all be well, live and let live.
All Love, all care and all forgive.

~ Supreme Master Ching Hai

A Love Song

By Laguna, a Much-loved Macaw

Representing all the winged children in the Supreme Master's household

~ Compiled by Jane

People call Her Supreme Master Ching Hai
Because She comes from the Most High.
But She is our loving Mom
We winged children know Her by.

Her hair is like golden feathers,
Her voice chimes like a bird's.
When She sings us lullabies,
The music lifts us to the highest heavenly worlds.

She comes from a place full of light,
And She brings it to earth for our great delight.
Our house is full of love,
Lots of laughter, good food and sunshine from above.

She is the colors of the rainbow,
The fragrance of a flower.
She is the blessing rain,
The softness of the summer hour.

She is the universe we know so well,
Resting in Her bosom we will never fall.
How can we leave east, west, north and south?
She is them all!

And She is our Mom, above all!!!

Biography of The Supreme Master Ching Hai

The Supreme Master Ching Hai was born in Central Au Lac (Vietnam). At the age of eighteen, Master Ching Hai moved to England to study, and then later to France and then Germany, where She worked for the Red Cross and married a German physician. After two years of happy marriage, with Her husband's blessings, She left Her marriage in pursuit of enlightenment, thus fulfilling an ideal that had been with Her since Her childhood. This began a time of arduous pilgrimages to many different countries that ended only when She met a perfect living Master in the Himalayas. Master Ching Hai received the divine transmission of the inner Light and Sound, which She later called the Quan Yin Method. After a period of diligent practice, She attained Perfect Enlightenment.

To satisfy the longing of sincere Truth seekers, the Supreme Master Ching Hai offers the Quan Yin Method of meditation to people of all nationalities, religions and cultural backgrounds. Her message of love and peace brings spiritual liberation and hope to people throughout the world, reminding all to uphold Truth, Virtue, and Beauty in life.

In speaking of God or the Supreme Spirit, Master instructs us to use original non-sexist terms to avoid the argument about whether God is a She or a He.
 She + He = Hes (as in Bless)
 Her + Him = Hirm (as in Firm)
 Hers + His = Hiers (as in Dear)
 Example: When God wishes, Hes makes things happen according to Hiers will to suit Hirmself.

As a creator of artistic designs as well as a spiritual teacher, Supreme Master Ching Hai loves all expressions of inner beauty. It is for this reason that She refers to Vietnam as "Au Lac" and Taiwan as "Formosa." Au Lac is the ancient name of Vietnam and means "happiness." And the name Formosa, meaning "beautiful," reflects more completely the beauty of the island and its people. Master feels that using these names brings spiritual elevation and luck to the land and its inhabitants.

Amigo

Paired with Prima, left wild for breeding purpose only. In the beginning, was reserved, nervous, avoided humans...

Later he became more tame and friendly, the better, friendlier of the two.

He gets on well with all the flock, and loves me dearly, bless him so!

Very protective, shoos Prima away if she shows aggression to humans. Before coming here, he was different, and even in the beginning still was afraid of Prima.

As he feels protective to humans, he grew more mature, confident and courageous.

And so lovely.

*I am a man
Treat me like one!
For I too am from God
Everyone knows that.*

*What have I done wrong?
Won't you look at me once?*

*I feel better among the flowers
Than with that quarrelsome one.
She's beautiful but too strong!*

*I don't really enjoy being alone
But girls are too hard to get and troublesome
I'll just go meditate on THE ONE*

*Well! She seems to be friendly
At least she starts talking to me.
I must thank Mother Fairy!*

*Whatever happens, doesn't matter
I always love a friend like her
She reminds me of the Heavenly Mother*

Anakhan

Anakhan means peaceful warrior, I named him thus for his noble manner. He never revenges! Even if he is harassed or injured by another bird.

When Free Joy (Caique) just arrived (the adopted family did not want him because Free Joy is aggressive!) he was attacking Anakhan, twice bit him on the legs, bleeding. We had to take him to the vet, but Anakhan forgave Free Joy always.

Several times Free Joy attacked him again, but Anakhan just wrestled Free Joy upside down on to the ground, placed his foot gently on the Caique's chest for a few seconds, while yelling at him, then let him go, unharmed!

We're amazed at Anakhan's noble demeanor but keep him safe from Free Joy since. For they both would not change their attitude.

I call them War and Peace or Yin and Yang! But strange! They both love me equally intense!

A black and white cockatoo is shown in profile, facing left. It has a large, dark, hooked beak and a prominent crest of black feathers on its head. Its neck and chest are white. It is wearing a gold necklace with several large, ornate pendants. The pendants are made of gold and feature intricate designs, including heart shapes and floral motifs, all encrusted with various colored gemstones like red, blue, green, and black. The background is a vast, snowy mountain range under a clear blue sky. In the foreground, there are dark, silhouetted branches of a tree on the left and right sides.

I might look scary
But I am no witchy

I am all loving sweet
All dovey sugar honey!

She is a green palm
I am a black palm

We are both

good
good

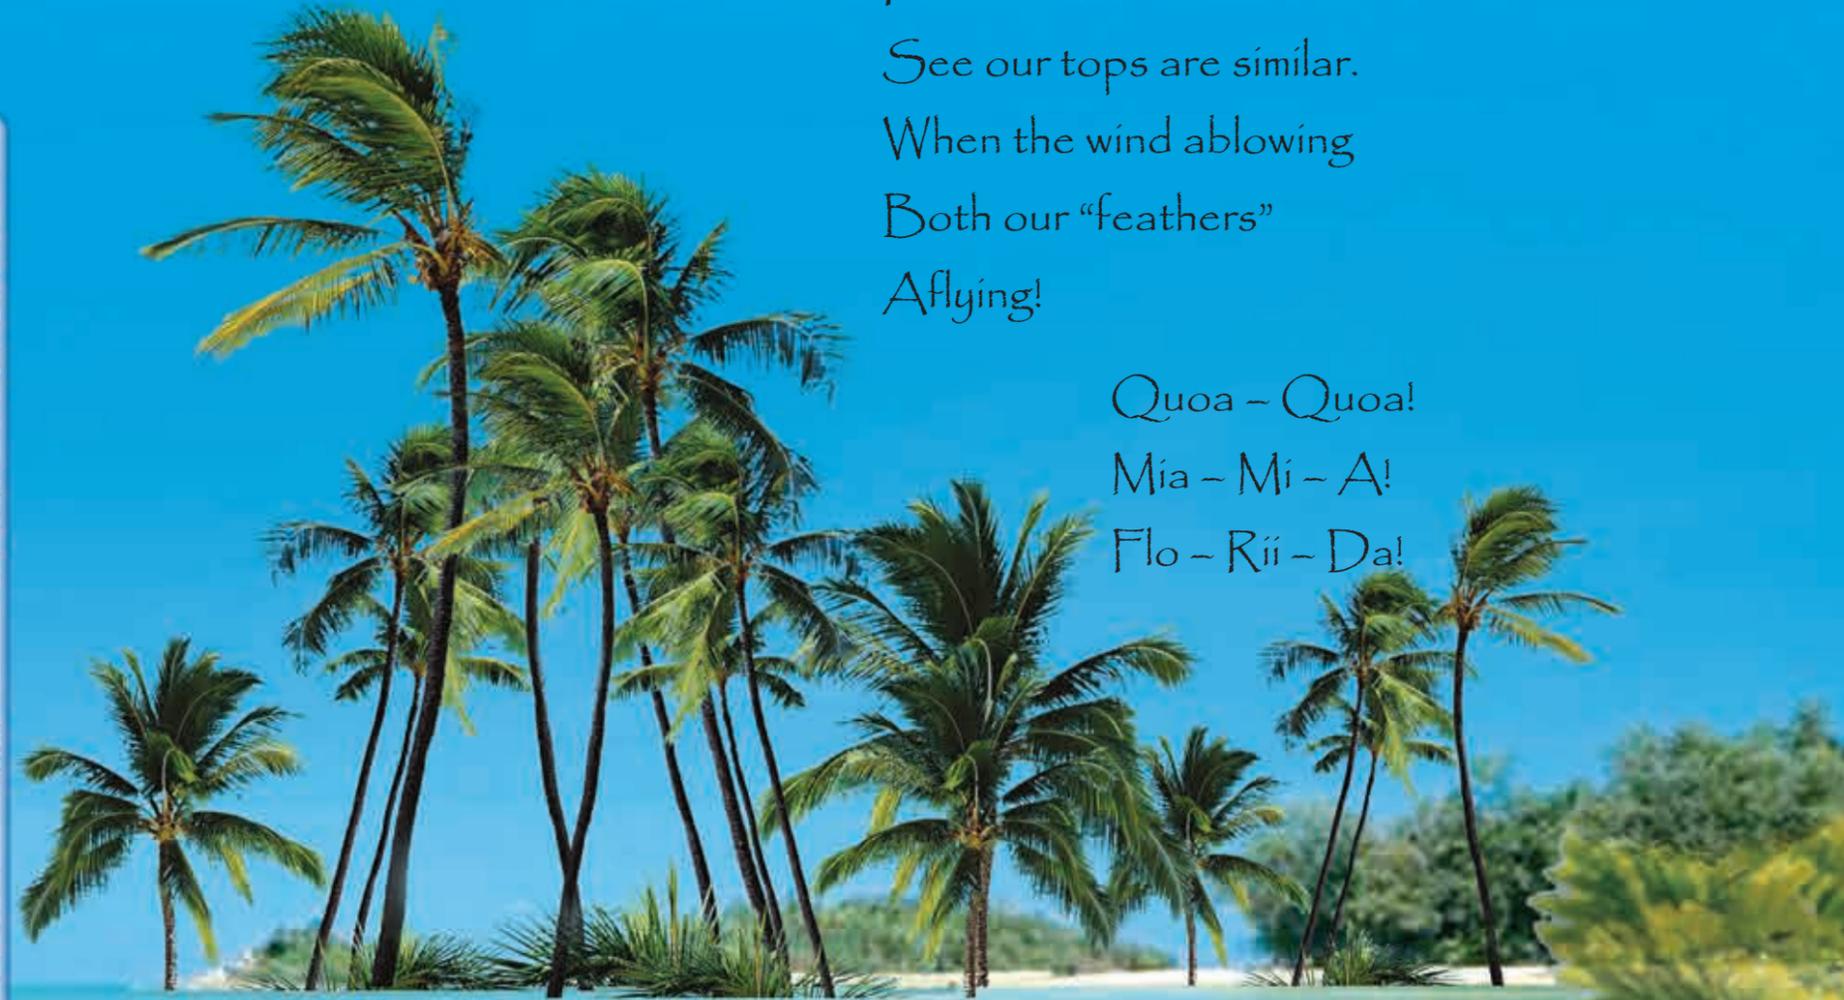

We never do harm
We're from loving realms

Do I want to speak
The complicado human language?
Of course my dear, I do I do!
But would you want to learn
To fly with me too?

I like it much here
See our tops are similar.
When the wind ablowing
Both our "feathers"
A flying!

Quoa - Quoa!
Mia - Mi - A!
Flo - Rii - Da!

I love you, I love you
But English is so...o difficult
Can we do some thing like... more “cool”?

Can we use Quan-Yin language?
Which is more universal.
And chic!

A, B, C

D, E, F, G...

Ah, nothing is more "easy"!

My mom taught me how to fly

But she mentioned none of these!

We just use telepathy.

Azure

Azure, girl of the sky, the color of soft space.

Loves me alone. Absolutely!

She could kiss me the whole day if let her.

For all her love for me, she wards off potential “rivals” zealously. None of the other similar sizes should venture near where she is!

But she’s getting more mellowed with age! Good thing! For her petite size, she consumes lots of food! Can eat any thing, any time. One can observe her “stomach” round up like an egg below her throat.

She needs all the calories she can get to keep her body warm, as her belly is bared. One time long ago, I had to leave suddenly and due to regulation, could not bring her with me, nor could I return quickly to the place where she was. Out of sadness she plucked her feathers, and they didn’t grow back.

Well! Finally, we are reunited, but she doesn’t seem to want those feathers to regrow; she plucks them as soon as they appear, maybe to remind me never to leave her again! I am so sorry, love! You know how my life is, don’t you?!!

A scenic landscape featuring a river flowing through lush green hills. In the foreground, a blue parrot with a red beak is perched on a branch, holding a bouquet of red tulips. The background shows a valley with rolling hills and a small village under a bright sky. The scene is framed by large green leaves in the foreground.

*I, Azure the beauty
Accept your bouquet and apology!*

*I love you too much
To ever hold a grudge.*

*No need for your jealousy
Dear Silly Primi!
It will only make you
Less pretty.*

*OK! OK!
Love is to share:
I'll be patient
And bear!*

*In Heaven above
And Earth below
I love only one
You know!*

I am always pretty with...

God is the secret of my beauty!

*...Or without jewelry
You all agree?!!*

*I keep myself in good shape
By certain postures of the yogis.*

*I think of God
And meditate daily
You see!*

*I love to be alone
In Nature
Fresh air
On the tree*

The background of the entire page is a soft, light blue and white floral pattern. Overlaid on this are several decorative elements: golden musical staves with notes, some of which are replaced by red and yellow hearts. There are also clusters of purple flowers in the top left and bottom right corners. The text is centered in the middle of the page.

*Smelling nice flowers
Enjoying gifts of the Creator
Singing praises to HER!*

*One is never alone anyway:
There're always flowers and trees,
And sun, and moon, and stars for company!*

*And above all: her love,
My human friend's loyalty.
The "real face of yesterday"...*

*No matter how I look,
I am still her love*

*I love you too
I love you three
I love you true...
I love you really~*

*She doesn't see outer glory
She sees the face of eternity.*

Brighty

One day, I thought Luvy was a little lonely among those tiny birdies, so I took him for an outing.

We went shopping together in different pet shops for toys, food etc...

There were different pets and birds in those shops. Luvy paid no attention till he saw Brighty in a small cage. He immediately flew over from my hand, fluttering and climbing around her cage, talking and singing.

So I thought: This is it. Home she came with us. She was rather reserved and shy. Later I found out through the vet that she was sick, and I got a share of that as well. Anyway, we both recovered, quickly. Luvy and Brighty became fast friends ever since.

But she's kind of a not too happy bird. So I named her Brighty, wishing her the better mood. And she changed, became more chattering, more enthusiastic and lively day by day. Thanks Heaven for that...

But she is also nicknamed "Cool beauty" for her distant nature. Luvy on the contrary, has a healthy attitude, is friendly and loving.

It's interesting to see, two almost identical birds of the same species behaving so differently, almost opposite of each other!

*Who said like attracts like
Some say opposites attract too!*

I feel Brightier

Here on the tree branch

Than in a closed cage

Though it's big and golden!

We mostly go in just to sleep

Thanks Heaven!

Can you GUESS

Whose pictures are these?

Luvy

(Right! The left is me)

Ah! You're so Brighty!
Reward yourself
With the same birdie

It's nice sometimes to be alone
to meditate on the benevolence.

To think of the now and hereafter.
And to love God and His creatures.

Do you see much

Difference in these pictures?

NO?

Me
neither!

Nature, Nature
I love you!

I can sing, dance

The whole day through.

(Try it yourself

It's good for you!)

Cheery is a hawkhead, so called for the resemblance of the head of a hawk!

She was “too old” for sale, like some of my other birds. If not sold at certain age, they are doomed to spend the rest of their lives in tiny cages, just to make a shop look like plenty.

She was with another, they befriended each other till he was sold, left her behind, mourning for love lost. Heart broken!

I named her Cheery in the hope of cheering her up. She got better each day with TLC. She loves to lie on her back and let you play around, tickling her wings, scratching her tummy...

She didn't want to eat much, so I coaxed her with songs and spoon feeding.

Her mood lifted after some time. Time heals all wounds, they say!

She loves to “help me” clean up the dried leaves from the trees by chewing them off. Feeling proud doing her job every time!

I Love you so much!

God loves you!

Now, upsi-upsi once more time
Make you beautiful, strong and wise!

♥ One for Momy

♥ One for Dady

♥ One more for you

♥ And one for me!

♥ We feel good, we feel fine.

We feel rested after a good nite!

And meditation is really... nice.

Good morning Ma'am, Good morning sun.

Thanks for breakfast and loving concern!

I love God for every bit of nutrient

*Now let's go work and prune the trees
And anything that makes you pleased*

"Bravo, bravo, well done, well done You're a good girl! And diligent!"

*And now just for the two of us
Love, love, love, more love and trust.*

*You meditate for both of us
I gotta finish working this nut!*

*The nuts up there are too big, too high.
I prefer this one, good for my size!*

*Well, have you been in Nirvana
Would you like nut from Samsara!*

()Note: Nirvana = Heaven
Samsara = Earth*

Free Joy

“Thou shalt not love any other bird beside me”

Free Joy was another unwanted bird. Too old to be sold. If a bird stays too long alone, he/she will find it difficult to get along with other birds or a mate.

Free Joy was an “angry-youngster” and distrusted men. But he adores women, and he loves me absolute! I can do anything with him, while he might bite any near comer male with no fear or reservation! Size never matters to him.

He loves doing acrobatics on my finger, turning himself 360° around it. He is ever so gentle with ladies.

He can hop and dance on command like a circus talent! He sings well too, and is a free spirit.

Originally I offered him as a partner to a lonely female Caique in a vet clinic. But he wanted nothing to do with her. So the vet returned him to me.

The moment he is on my hand and out of the vet’s place, he let out a string of songs like pearls and waterfall; he was ecstatic with joy and showed a full tank of happiness.

I named him Free Joy on the spot. It's just so right for him. And he lives up to this name always. You never see a dull moment in him!

Such a darling of my heart; full of love for life and joy to live!

*Thank You God
Thank You Heaven!*

*For Free Joy's first day home!
What a joy... and fun!
We all feel this's where he belongs!*

*Acrobatic, acrobat
Upside down, inside out, I am blessed!*

*As long as I am with you
There's nothing I wouldn't do!*

*Am I happy? Of course I am
I am smiling, I am singing
I can also hop and I can dance
Just to show you how happy I am
(God would tell you the same!)*

I never felt so good before

There, there you are!

I could do much more!

Life is joyful, life is free
Life is cool like a coco tree!

A big thanks to Mommy.
And God Almighty!

I love THEE!

See the difference between fotos?
This one has leaves on it.

And on this one: no!
I ate them all!
(Just to see Heaven better)

Gentino

Gentino is a Moluccan cockatoo, the type of bird that is associated with loyalty and lifetime devotion to the human companion.

I got to know him when he was already 20 years old. But he's ever energetic and young! He talks to you, to himself, he sings, he dances.

He was a little sad when the "ex" handed him over to me, but quickly got over it and came to love me dearly. As he knows he's not wanted anymore!

When I brought him back to his previous care taker, he shied away from him and ran back into my arms, snuggled his head onto my bosom, showing affection to me more than ever before that day!

Whenever my car comes home, no matter how late, he is the first one to say, "Hallo," "How are you," "I love you," "Come here."

One time when he misbehaved, I reprimanded him seriously, he looked down to the floor and said, "I am sorry" clearly! But that's the only time he said it.

He loves to be in my company and ignores other birds. But he loves dogs. He loves to preen and groom them, especially the long-haired ones. He will chase after them, cooing, "Come here, wou wou, good boy, good boy" ... and the dogs are scared of him, even the big dogs like Hermit and Goody. Because he would stand on top of them and "comb" their hair, and of course if they move their hair gets pulled. It hurts, I guess. (You can try to see how it feels like!)

Otherwise, he would want to kiss them, and it's not a soft beak that he has!

He also likes to watch the dogs fooling around and say, "Ha ha, it's funny!" (I did not teach him all this.) There is no end to his antics, ever.

He has a very special place in my heart always. Dearest baby love Gentino of mein...

A white cockatoo is perched in the lower right corner, looking upwards. The background is a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the upper left, a crescent moon and a multi-pointed star are visible. A palm tree is partially visible in the background behind the cockatoo.

Wow! What a big difference
Is it already Heaven?

I haven't seen the sky
For such a long long time
Quoa! Quoa! Quoa!
I have a brand new life.

I can see far to the vast horizon

I could even fly

But I want to stay forever here

Just by her side.

A large white cockatoo is perched on a dark brown tree branch. Its wings are spread wide, showing a pinkish-orange inner lining. The bird has a dark beak and a white face with a small red patch on its forehead. The background is a dense, out-of-focus green forest.

Ah, here she came
My "little angel"
I'd even come down right
From Heaven just to say Hi!
I haven't seen her near
(since last nite!)
I missed her in my dream
I miss her any time!

... Just to think of my ex place
Oh dear Heaven, how I hate!...
I often chewed away boredom
If only can also the cage.

~*~

I was placed at the "bottom line"
Dirt and dirt fly around day and nite
Above my cages other birds scream so loud
Under my cage filth + poo abounds!

EX PLACE

Guess who tries to look alike
But not as handsome as I...?

No, no, no! It is not me
Don't you know I am so pretty?
Even though he came here before
I am top bird, and I am adored!

(Shz! Don't tell this to Mirabeau!)

Look at the dogs I love to preen
But I'll be patient and waiting.
They are my favorite long hair
How adorable even they're just ...
Lying there!

See the proof?

That I am so loved!

By the birds and humans alike

I am the "center of this life"!

Ha ha!

(Believe it? Well, try...!)

Why bother with him and Mirabeau

I am right here as if you don't know

If I were you, I'd put them down

And come hurried to me... right now!

There, there, ok that feather there
It bugs me much cos it's so hard
I really love your tender touch
Appreciate your care ever so much
If there's Heaven some where above
I pray God let me be with you, love!

Kadula

Kadula is a beautiful scarlet. So affectionate and sensitive and loyal. I love this girl so much for her heart as much as her beauty.

She is another case of depression through sudden separation! She was together with a male scarlet, then he was sold. Leaving her alone and sad.

But she was trying to adjust while in my house. Then she recovered and showed signs of happiness.

When she first came into my car to go home, she seemed to pick herself up and sing "la la la la" all the way home.

But still, it takes long time for her to be her normal happy self.

I wish we could all understand others like birds, and treat them as we would ourselves... They are so sensitive in their emotional relationships, and in the atmosphere they are surrounded with.

Their companion and friends mean a lot to them, sometimes as life itself, their loyalty is so incredible! They suffer loss and sorrow much like we do.

All who have birds should consider their feeling and have respect for their dignity and love.

"before"

This is the me "before"
I looked even more miserable

I look better here already
And feel better day by day

(not long)

"after"

Life will improve someday, surely
I did not know that I could try
Here I have love and company
That lifts me out of misery!

Thank You my Lord!

You are so gracious.

You heard my prayers

I love You forever!

This new lady friend really loves birds
Went out of her way to bring us pleasure
She builds all kinds in her garden
To make us feel like in Heaven
She gives good food and lots of toys
And natural home for us to enjoy

And so of course I get better

As you can see, I recover!

Because of such a love and care

That in this world I think so rare

I am grateful, that's all I can share.

I love this guy he is so cute
With sunny mood and bell-like "drills."
He dances, he sings, and makes merry
And he looks so gorgeous to me.
(I think he's trying to please... somebody!)

Tell me Sunny, is that somebody, me?
I also like you so...o a lot...lot
After ~ you know ~ the Lord our God

And I really love this lady
Even if no one exists in this world
She will always be there for me!

Laguna

Named for her beautiful color of mysterious deep water.

But she is anything but mysterious. She plays with humans (not all) laughs and talks a lot. She is like an open book. If she's not pleased, you can't get her out onto your hand. If she's happy she lies on her back at the bottom of the cage, playing with her tail, singing all the while! And she knows who is who!

She makes big conversation, which sounds like human (learnt from television). Now and again you can make out some words: "OK, now get over it, I don't like you, well how are you, I love you, Laguna, Laguna... where are you going," etc.

She amuses herself a lot and is no trouble. Except if she gets to the top of her cage. She doesn't want to come down!

She'll push anything (and you) away with her beak and run around goose chase with you; only new, colorful food can lure her back in, after a considerable long time playing hard to get.

But she loves and respects me so much; she even told one bird communicator that I'm a very special lady, should be highly revered!

She also loves to cuddle in my arm or lie on her back so I stroke her belly. She can eat up any cage that is not as thick as the size of a metal stick you use for BBQ. She can even twist them around into a tight spiral shape, wrapped around the other edge of the cage like a lock, that pliers must be used to open the door to get her out or for feeding, cleaning. Those metal wires are thick enough for you to find it not easy to cut through with metal cutters. But she can break them with her beak!!!

It's good that she's friendly with humans and other pets! She loves all nuts, and is addicted to melon, apples and mango. She chews wood like you chew bread. Such a strong jaw, and strong personality.

But I adore her and she loves me.

Hallo big green gate
That I always hate!

You can't separate me
And the one I love dearly
I'd climb mountains and rivers
Just to be near her!

If we are together
Me no fear blizzard thunder!
Above I have God
Here... her.

I miss you too

I love you too

I'll just stay right here

I won't move!

Well, maybe away a little

Like here, just around the corner

To hear what the trees say

About true love every day.

Love is all we need

We show it with kiss...!

This funny thing I don't like
Why, it is blocking your eyes!
I wana see your love
I wana see your light...

Do you really know who am I?

The one who came from the Light

And do you know who you are?
The one from galaxies afar

We all came from the same place
That is Love, Blessing, Grace!

(To animal ~psychic:)
And you know who's this woman?
She is "Love - incarnation."

Libra

A Hybrid macaw, his temperament is also “Hy Brid.” Sometimes he’s sweet, other times a little tough. But deep down he’s a “Good Boy.”

I named him Libra to “balance” him.

When he first came, also a little too old to sell, but he adjusted well. He kissed me the first time home(!!!)

He loves to buddy with everyone. But he comes on too strong, so they detour themselves away from him.

Only Sunny stayed on. Being a good natured, happy go lucky whatever type, Sunny gets on with everyone. Live and let live alike.

So they became fast friends, and Libra adores Sunny and thus settled down with the flock quickly.

Despite his rough style, he is very good at heart, sentimental and sensitive.

One day I had to leave, not knowing when I will ever return nor whether I will be able to bring them to me later. I wasn’t even sure where I will be. So I went to each of them tearfully saying good-bye. Telling them how sorry I am to leave suddenly this way.

Libra, normally cool and not showing emotion, suddenly grabbed me before I even reached his cage and tilted his head on my arm when I came next to him, “kiss kiss” me gently, rubbing his head on to me, then looked up into my eyes “saying” it’s OK, it’s going to be OK. I love you. I will miss you. But don’t worry, you will see us again.

Well, that made me cry more like a baby! So much love I felt from that tough but small frame of a wonder being!

I thanked Heaven for such a marvel of creation and feel so privileged to understand someone who is not human, but who is so beautiful inside out.

If you have pets, try to “listen”; they will lead you into their world, guarded secretly since the beginning of creation!

*I like her cos she's genuine
She's unconditional and loving.*

*She let me be and I'm happy
Besides, I love being among trees
Like Buddha under the Bodhi.*

*Hi there world! Nice to be here.
I have naught to loose nor to fear
Where I came from I was alone
It's a good thing: to learn detachment.*

*I have good food, lots of toys and love
Lots of play time and such stuff
If Nirvana means without desire
Then it is here right by my side*

*I offer my thanks to Heaven up there
For my little life extraordinaire
To be a pet and enjoy all this
All day, all nite I am in bliss!*

*And thanks to this lovely lady
You are in my heart through eternity
I offer my "hand" in lasting friendship
My love, I am all yours to keep!*

Hip Hip!

*A quiet moment on God above
My heart has never lacked Hiers love
I meditate on Hiers blessing
Forever showers on all beings*

Lumino

I don't know if any bird could ask for more colors than Lumino, an Eastern Rosella, beloved of my heart.

And when he sings, Heaven would be also pleased. He created so many beautiful tunes to match his even glorious appearance! He is an incredible musician, such a tiny being with so much life and vigor.

He is also a loner, shy and reserved. Maybe all artists are in someway. But you can be allowed to feel his love, once he gets to know you well enough.

He doesn't give his heart just to any one; he chooses discretely, and stays with his choice and shows his affection in a quiet but lovely way. Thus, when he perched on my shoulder for the first time, and let me take him out of his "room," there was a tingling sensation under my skin!

There's no way you can miss this feeling of affection and oneness. I love him so much, no words can describe. And his love cannot be compared or measured. How such a fragile frame holds so much splendor!

I shall forever cherish you, treasured gift of my life, dearest beloved Lumino. Your love brings tears of gratitude to my eyes.

And maybe to anyone, who has the privilege to know it.

Just to say hallo,
And I do love you so.

I am not hungry

Do not worry

Thanks for the nice surrounding

In which I am thriving.

The only important things in these pictures
Are "me and her"

The rest?
Well, no matter!

All the branches

I did not chew!

Who has thus told you?

I was just checking them through

The photographer
Wants me to show all colors.
Here you have it.
Voilà!

I say so long
But not good-bye
You stay forever
In this heart of mine
We live together
In the eternal life!

Luvy, so named for his soft, tender loving nature.

He is so totally into you, that he makes you feel that you are the only person in his entire life's focus. He talks clearly and sweetly, with a throatal low voice that's so cute.

Though he loves Brighty so much, I'm still the priority; he shows it well! He never complains, always bears a bright, happy and positive attitude, so he helped Brighty recover from her depression, and cheers my day. Just his devotional love is even enough for anyone to feel warmed up and happy.

He came from a high level of consciousness. He brought with him this loving unconditional gift into the human world. We are lucky to have our planet populated with these special of special beings who brighten our world with their beauty and true love.

He always says to me: "I love you." And gives me kisses, and shows his joy and appreciation even just for any little nice gesture or food. Of course he loves peanuts!

One day while he was in a covered terrace, somehow he landed on the floor, and separated by a curtain, he couldn't get out. But he stayed there and talked to himself, as if to keep calm while the wind kept beating the curtain against his head, till I heard and found him!

Then he clung to my finger desperately, and said non-stop: "I love you, I love you, I love you".....

I placed him onto my chest and caressed him, he became still and drifted into his dream soon after.

He's such a sweet darling that leaves a deep loving impression on anyone who knows him. God bless him so.

And I can't even begin to express how much he means to me and how much I love this marvel of a creature!

*There you have it
I'm all smile and "photo-chic"!
If you like my pose alright.
Make my photo smart and bright.*

*'Course I can sing, loud and clear
I have come into this world to cheer
If you feel a little low and down
I will sing you up to the high cloud!*

*We say hallo, never good-bye
For we are eternal Light
Even if our physical disappears
Our real essence is always here.*

Mei Mei

Mei Mei – Chinese, meaning beautiful sister, so named for her maiden- like personality. This bird, together with Ping Ping are new family members.

Like Prima and Amigo, they were left wild in an outdoor cage for breeding purpose only.

I took them in because of some affinity in the past.

They have code words to be recognized. Hers is “smart bird”; I used that to tame her, and she became more accepting and happy.

Tell her that she is a “smart bird” - then you can see her spirit spark up, her attitude cheer on and she’ll come to you on offered perch, or get back into her cage effortlessly.

But it took long time for this pair to be tamed, in the beginning, as they’re so used to being in the “wild outdoors.” They were so fearful of humans that we couldn’t even come near; they would either panic or bite if too close.

They do not bite anymore! And I came in and out in the night to check their room’s temperature “un-noticed.”

She is a very keen observer and not much escapes her sharp eyes. So she knows who’s with her and who’s not, who she can trust and who to stay distanced from. You can feel her watching eyes even from behind you or from a far corner of the room. But it’s not an uncomfortable feeling, just OK, un-intrusive.

And though remaining cool, she sends you love, affection in the air. And you feel that with her appreciation for your care and sincerity. (If you have!)

*I love outdoors, I love fresh air
I love the wind caressing my hair
Climbing the tree is my fav. sport
Singing in the sun is another lot.*

I am not afraid of any height
Here you can see me hanging upside
I want to see the blue Heaven
That ~ my original nature ~ reminds

I love water, I love shower
I dip myself any time.
"Cleanliness is close to Godliness";
I want to remember Him always.

Mirabeau

My first bird ever since “adulthood.” I had a black bird before as a child, but I set him free as he was captured in the wild and given to me untamed. I thus didn’t want to cage him.

Originally he was named Mirabele, as the previous caretaker told me it’s a female – but a DNA test later showed that he was a male – so I changed his name to Mirabeau.

Well, it doesn’t matter. He is as lovely as a female and as loyal as a dog. No matter how many birds came after, he always shows me the same affection as the first time we met. Even more so!

Anytime or no matter how late I come in, he always runs to the door for a loving cuddle.

He was very young when I came across him, he is my “official” first chosen bird. Or maybe he chose me.

When I came in, he started to greet me and cuddled right away. Then he quietly lay down on a table as if asleep. I felt we were very connected, but my mind was unsure whether or not to bind myself with responsibility.

I asked him half jokingly: “Are you ready to go home?” And to everyone's surprise, amid the talk of humans, birds, dogs and pets of all kind, the sleeping baby bird stood up and walked straight toward me among the crowd, stepped on my hand, laid his head on my bosom, looked at me lovingly and knowingly in a definite “Yes” in front of everyone.

So I “had to” take him home! And we live happily ever after since. Well, sometimes we had “words,” but no big trouble. Just like on some occasion when he cut off my TV program by chewing away the live electric cord. (Well, TV is not always good for you!) Or, he demolished my furniture. (OK, renunciation is better!) Or, he ate up my shirt button. (Yogis don’t need clothes anyway.) I just have to watch him; if let alone anything in the house can be his “object of demolition”; he doesn’t chew on toys that much, just loves to chew forbidden things!

One day, in some moment, we were busy, he got to the ceiling at the entrance door frame, munched all the cable for the awning system and sat up there in the middle of messy gnawed zigzag wires, waiting for me to come take him down (and scold him of course!)

Despite all his troublesome antics, I always kiss him good-nite, for his love is worth all the possessions in the world.

Guess which bird I like the best?
Well, the middle one, and the rest.

*I'll try to bring it right down
Who would ever need a gate.
She's not home and she is late,
This is the one doth us separate!*

*Wonder why I transmigrate here
But I love being among these peers
They're all colors and each own size
And we get along fabulously fine!*

*Hi there housy, I am taller than you
Think that you can contain me, noo!
I am not the body I inhabit,
I am one with the vast spirit!
You and I
How we forget sometimes.*

*That secret of the universe
Not everyone understood.
Methinks!*

*I am a bird who dreams
Or in a dream become a bird!*

*But I don't mind this illusion
Which is as sweet as in Heaven!*

*It's OK to be alone
One can contemplate on the "unknown"*

*But I also love to be
With my saintly family.*

And of course

I love this lady.

Muni

One of the more affectionate queens of Bavaria, he is actually a male.

So lovely, lovely. You can do anything you want with him: turn him “inside out” upside down, he just loves it. He loves to be scratched gently on his tumtum (tummy).

Anything you do, he’d approve and always says: “Correct. Correct. Correct!”

He comes to the door of his “condo,” waiting to be taken out if I am near. The two of them are much affectionate about each others, always showing love, always grooming each other, inseparable. Well, no wonder: they are brother and sister!

But they look like twins; you can only tell the difference as Nova (the other) has more green feathers on the back of her shoulder.

He is so affectionate, you’d like to spend all day playing with him!

A vibrant yellow parrot is perched on a branch adorned with white and orange flowers. The parrot is the central focus, looking slightly to the left. The background features a serene landscape with a calm lake reflecting the sky and surrounding greenery. In the distance, a large, ornate castle with multiple towers and spires is visible through the trees. The sky is a clear, bright blue. The overall scene is peaceful and picturesque.

*I am definitely not a queen here.
The title makes me feel a little "Queer."
Can assure you I'm 100% macho
I am just too young to show!*

*We are quite different though we look like twins.
The one behind me is the real queen.
But she is real sweet and not snobbish!
For the true royal is the mighty spirit.
We came from there and will be back soon.
Beyond the stars, the suns and moons.*

*Yeah! Turn me round, turn upside down
As long as you're here, no matter how*

*Like this I see more of Heaven
And feel your love equal to none.*

*Yeah! I could lie here day and nite.
As long as you're holding me tight
What treasure I on earth the most?
Everyone knows: it is your Love!*

A vibrant yellow and green parrot is perched on a large, purple, spherical flower. The background is a soft-focus garden with various green plants and flowers, creating a serene and natural setting.

Nova, I only want to say I love you so much, and you know it's true. God bless you.

My beautiful much loved queen

My pure - hearted heavenly being

Though this world is not really fit for you

To show your love, you have come down.

The human race considered blessed

That God sends them, among the best

You gift this world with your beauty

But leave sadness when you've gone away!

I love you Nova, for as long as I live

And forever, forever more.

Beyond this illusionary dream

We will stay lasting friends.

Nova

*I don't have any jealousy.
You love me as much as Muni.
But he's a boy and I'm a girl.
Tell me which one you prefer?
(Just kidding!)*

*It is interesting to see
The world in "Topsy Turvy."
But I like much this position
Having higher, clearer "viewpoint."*

*And... So I can see your whole face
And... So much feel the Heaven's Grace
The world is beautiful when we're together.
Deep in my heart, I thank the Creator.*

*Me and Muni
Love you dearly
We think of you
Day and Nite through.
We love you!*

Ping Ping

Together with Mei Mei, they were left wild but in small cage. Of course just for breeding. However, they'd not hesitate to separate them if profited. So I took them both.

His code is "Pretty Bird" as he is proud of his splendor. Who wouldn't be? I just use this code to train him. So he'd go on my hand and tame him.

But for this, one needs lots of patience, time and love. As they both have been wild. Whenever you stop "interacting" with them even for a short while due to lack of time, they'd go back to the untamed state.

But it's OK anyway; in my house, each one is free to choose the intimacy between us. It's alright also, just to enjoy each other's presence, and have their needs taken cared of. They have each other anyway. And we do love and trust each other as a family. They're both OK with that. Me too.

The most important point is that we are all happy. And we are.

As God is my witness
Here, I am the prettiest
Hes's made me so
To adorn this world

I am doing my noble duty
Just to... BE!

A photograph of two green parakeets perched on a dark branch. The larger parakeet on the left has a yellow forehead and a red patch on its throat. The smaller parakeet on the right is a lighter shade of green. They are surrounded by numerous pink azalea flowers with prominent stamens. The background is a soft-focus landscape with more flowers and a hint of a blue sky.

Thanks Heaven that we're so lucky
That we are together every day
That we have a nice home, caring love
We also thank our kind lady
For protecting and loving us
We love each other
We also love her.

I love to fly around trees high
My heart feels as vast as the sky
There's nothing can contain my spirit
For within me Heaven's might is!

The view is lovely, like you're, Mei Mei
Our dear FATHER creates beauty
Our dear MOTHER creates true love
It is Heaven everywhere I see!

Prajna

She came to me as a “baby.” A doctor for birds recommended me to take her home. Well, I did.

I spoon-fed her till she was weaned. She loves to be scratched on her head ever since she came home, even now. No matter how late I come in (to check the birds’ room temperature, make sure it’s cool/warm enough for them at night), she always comes near to greet me and bow down her head.

I always sing softly before and upon entering their room with a small flashlight shining on my face, so that they’d not be alarmed. And she also sings with me.

Or she’ll say, “Yoo hoo,” cos I do that sometimes. And she clicks her tongue also the way I do, then comes near for the head “pet pet.”

She is so adorable and she keeps Mirabeau quiet. Before when Mirabeau was alone, he would yell a lot more often and louder. He’s happier with her company. They get along well.

She talks exactly like my voice – sometimes fools the assistants, thinking that I am nearby! If I tell my helpers something, and they don’t respond, she’ll say “Yes Master” – for their sake!

She would call any dog’s name with precision. Like “Benny, quiet” “Hermit, no” etc... When the dogs are too loud! And of course, “I love You” when she feels like it if I am near (with a peanut!)

I am big girl: grow in God's love
Who needs spoon feeding stuff
(As if I am still a baby!)
All the mothers! The same worry!

The flowers and I
Who is prettier?
I can't stop

Feeling the wonders.

God Almighty must be very wise
To create beauties like you and I

*And Hes also created this girl
So she can love and care for birds
I don't know which planet she's from
But what would I do without her!*

*I look around and around me
Beauty and love everywhere I see*

*I thank Heaven and God above
For all the care and all the Love*

*In this dream land of temporal
Of illusion and upheaval
The love of God will see me through...*

*And I love life.
Because of Y♥u!*

*Summer, winter is all the same
'Cause in my home I'm always warm.*

*They say I came from Africa
(No! From the "House of my FATHER")
--- said my Master! ---*

And I believe her!

Prima

She is just beautiful.

She is just ... Prima.

And she likes to stay atop.

You cannot buy her

You cannot charm her

Unless you are dark-colored

At least dark-haired

And a male

A human male.

She would not change for any reason. That's how she is. And I accept it. It's OK. But we are friends. And she would let me ferry her around on my shoulder – alone – She'd nip my ear if some "other" is sharing my trip!

And she can be loud for such a small size of a bird. You can hear her through tight doubled glaze windows, closed doors. Sound proof glass...

She can be friendly if she wants a peanut, a piece of apple or free ride: she'd come near to me and say: "Prima want to go out" and repeating it till I "understand" that she means business or else! (quack loud, bite the locks, kick the cage etc...)

But I love her so much so...so...so... much. I'd like to hug her close and say that now--God bless her soul!

A photograph of a white and pink parrot perched on a branch with pink flowers, surrounded by green foliage. The parrot is the central focus, with its white body and pink tail feathers clearly visible. It is perched on a branch that is heavily laden with bright pink flowers. The background is a dense canopy of green leaves, creating a soft, natural setting. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day.

I don't mind being alone
Especially in the wide open.
My dear God loves me to be free
Among pretty flowers and shady trees.
(-said my lady-)

OK, Amigo!
I declare hereby to forgive you
“As you forgive your transgressor
God in Heaven will forgive you...”
Don't ever again be so close to... that blue!

(Azure) Let me make it clear to you
He is Mein!...
And she is too!

But we'll share the same Heaven
I let you, 'cause you're my friend!

Rainbow

Rainbow is the most “Psychic” of all my birds. He conveys many things to me for which I am amazed and grateful. He is the more of a “Go between” to let me know certain things about the flock, and other useful revelations.

He is generally very gentle, and does not fight back at any provocation. But you can tell if he's upset, though he's so patient and has great endurance. He's very protective of Laguna, the two are good friends. They groom each other lovingly, kiss and regurgitate to share food (a bird's sure sign of affection).

If left alone, he would often open (numbered) locks to come out of his cage to be near Laguna.

And no matter how big the cage is, he'll stick close to her in some corner.

I call him also “Hanger” 'cause he loves to hang at the top of the cage by hooking all his claws onto the metal ceiling fence, even to sleep. And he even managed to convince Laguna to do the same whenever they're together.

Alone, she would seldom do that by herself. If Sunny is with Rainbow, he will also hang himself in the air like him.

Rainbow is a very affectionate bird, but could get jealous if with Laguna. Well, I guess that happens also in the (hu)man world!

*I love climbing, anywhere will do
I'd climb Heaven if I could too.*

*Where I came from we are hangers
We hang on to love forever.
Hang on to God, virtue, beauty
To the nobleness that we should be.*

*Don't ask for the impossible
Why, first comes first perches, no?!*
*Though I love you so dearly
Stay down there till I'm ready!*

*Laguna might have given up.
But not I, Rainbow at the top.*

*Did I change my mind?
– well, gentlemen do sometimes!
It's nice to be nice.*

*This one sure make me more like me.
We birds do like good quality.
We like respect
And we like love
Without those things what will life be?*

*I didn't like this picture,
So told him take another.*

*And we do love our dear "Birdies"
That "Sunny" is really funny
When asked by Mom if he's happy
He answers: Ni Hao? In Chinesy: (How're you?)*

*When asked by others, "How are you?"
He said, "Ha Ha!"
So we all laugh: Quoa, Quoa, Quoa!*

"Please say something Loved Rainbow"!

*Come hang with me
... If you are bored!*

*This is as luv as it can get.
She does anything to make me happy.
I'll do anything to make her pleased.
Ha ha hi hi!
In her arms, I'm a baby!*

*I ask nothing more from God,
Such gratefulness has filled my heart!*

*Such happiness, such contentment
Makes me blissful as in Heaven.
Thanks God for giving me her Love.
And wonderful meditation!*

Sunny

One fine afternoon, I walked into a pet shop with Mirabeau on my shoulder, looking for a “play tree” and some new toys for him.

The sales woman in the shop showed me the best she had in the shop – A sturdy big hard wood “tree” with swing, ring and lots of branches to run around. I purchased all I needed there and I went to pay. While there, the same sales woman asked me if I take my bird everywhere I go, and if this expensive play tree and toys were for him. I answered, “Yes.”

She commented what a lucky bird he is, then asked me whether I wanted to adopt her macaw blue and gold. He was 11 months old then and very sweet tempered (Well, at that tender age!!!) She had him since his babyhood. I was surprised that someone would “give away” her own bird, asking for a price with cage included! (A reasonable price you could get one brand new for both.)

I wanted to know why. She explained the lack of time and attention for him. Hence he’s showing sign of stress; plucking his feathers, looking unhappy and so on... And she saw me take so much care for Mirabeau, thinking he’ll be better with me.

So I drove to her home, paid the price, got the sales paper, and took him with me. I felt so sorry for Sunny that no one asked his opinion and nor considered his feeling.

For the next two weeks, he was in bad shape, crying a lot, didn't want to eat much. At the time I already bought a big cage for Sunny (renamed thus to cheer up his life, cut off connection with the sad past). But I thought maybe his small old cage would be more familiar to him and make him feel more at home.

So I sent my assistant to go pick up that old, narrow rusty cage, hoping to make Sunny feel better, it didn't. He kept screaming, crying for "Dad, Dad." Obviously that's what he learnt to call the ex male care taker who took more care of him than his wife -- I still want to cry now, thinking of what he must have gone through!

One day I told him after so much effort of trying to console him without success: "Stop it! That family didn't want you. That's why you are here." – At this remark, he cried heartbrokenly, I was so sorry, I cried so much too, and apologized profusedly.

"I am sorry, I'm sorry, I didn't mean to hurt you, I love you so much, please settle down. We all love you here, and I will take care of you for the rest of your life, with all the love and care you need." And I touched his cage, kept talking, and then he calmed down and we both sat there quietly, only my true love for him communicating from my heart.

He healed soon after, and became more enthusiastic about life around him. He said,

"I like apple" if I asked. He loves mango more, and Banana second.

Birds would teach you about their world, their loyalty, their emotional needs, sensitivity and about love. They are so beautiful inside and outside.

They deserve love, TLC and respect, and show appreciation if you care – I have never regretted having brought any of my birds home. They give unconditional love, adorn my face with smiles and brighten my daily coexistence with the world.

They bridge the gap between human and other creatures. I only want to make them happy in my home, as members of my family.

*I love my name
Sunny I am
I live in God's Light
I feel so sunshine.*

We look so much alike
Good Rainbow and I
Only Mom could tell us apart
For others it may be hard.

Let me check out your hand glove
See if the stuff is good enough
I'll be so "gento."
Won't hurt your "fingos."

Yesterday you were blue
Today you are red.
What kind of feather
is that?

Shoot me? Please I like it
Shower in summer just feels great

Over the back and under wings
It's so cool and re...freshi...ing.

It's me Sunny, not Rainbow
A while ago, I let him borrow
Well, we share everything together
In our home, there is no owner
God gives us and on we pass
We don't hoard things that will not last

Just checking out this carpet
See if it's soft on her feet.
She takes good care of us all
A guy should return something, no?

Dearest good and sweet camera
I'd like to say something to ya
That I'm happy, grateful, content
Thanks to m'lady and grace of Heaven
Tell everyone I'm a lucky bird
Have found the "home of love" forever.

The sky is not the limit?

People say the sky is the limit
But Mom-Mom said that's not it
"You have to fly beyond the stars
Beyond Milky Ways and constellations afar!"

Woa!

I am sure as you say there is a Heaven
But where'er you are that's where I'm going.
Because of you I love this EARTH
Because of You I'd forsake the world!

Tutu & Mimi

Tutu and Mimi, “Twin” sisters, my first and only cockatiels, lovely beyond words.

When we first encountered each other, they jumped right onto my hands, then perched each on one side of my shoulder – stayed on. That’s how they got “carried” into my house.

The two of them together with Mirabeau traveled to many places in my mobile home, enjoyed family vacation style and we had no problem.

They love to perch on shoulder, transported free around or on the back of the sofa, watching TV!

And they love to groom me. Preening my hair, one side each, diligently! Oh, I love them so. I could cry, thinking of their “Little Big” love.

Whenever they hear my voice, no matter at what hour, from anywhere, they chirp very loud, calling me and rushing to greet me excitedly upon my entering. One cannot but feel their love written all over their tiny bodies and springing feet, with loud, high notes of welcoming and joy of reunion.

Oh, I love you so! If humans could love each other that much, peace and happiness can be ours forever.

A photograph of two cockatiels perched on a branch of a tree with vibrant green leaves and clusters of small white flowers. The cockatiel on the left is slightly more reddish in color, while the one on the right is paler. Both have the characteristic crest feathers on their heads.

We are very beautiful and bright
And although we look like twins
Mom can tell who is who in a twinkling*

*Tell you a little secret:
I'm a little paler
Mimi is a little reddish.
Her temperament too, is!*

*Though we are such a big family
Mom still so loves Tu and Mimi
She just said that "Love is to share"
We do always with other pairs.*

*But we sometimes go on solo
Around the garden to explore.
To appreciate God's immense love
Written on each leaf and flower!*

*Or to sit under the tree like a Buddha
Inspired by His saintly nature
To thank and praise Heaven above
As we can feel and live in God's Love.*

*Let's groom Mom while she's busy
She should look great if you ask me*

*I'm over here and you're over there
Preening away her bad feathers.*

*You can see here we're in the yard
Sharing love, toys and perch together.*

*When you are close
I enjoy your being*

*I feel your love all nite and day
Whether you're here or far away.*

*When you're not here
Of you I think*

*Going by yourself?
It's too lonely!
How about Tutu
Keeps you companied.*

Our Human Pet

This's our dear human pet girl
That we the lucky flock adore
Run out of words for affection
We just simply call her "Mom Mom."

Our human pet
Here with one of our favorites

Our Loving Home

So much she loves us
You can see the fuss.

There, she did thus invent
Our new winter play pen!

This is just a sample
Some are much bigger.

She spent many days outdoors
Even February nites also
To finish this product of love
Then proudly presented our condos

We enjoy the view
Without the winter chill.

Caring for Others

*She loves them (outside birds)
Because they have wings...*

This girl pet is a mystery
Why, she goes and loves everybody!
But we think it's 'cause she loves us too much
So she loves anyone who looks like us...

We also sympathize with the less lucky
The "homeless" birds like these!

A CONVERSATION WITH... GO...OSE?

That's too far!

Well OK! It's a SWA...AN

But... what's the point?

(Besides it's a wild one!!!)

Meaning comes and ...GO...NE!!!

Nothing wrong with comforting the needy
We're proud cos they look like us birdies:
So she loves them for they look similar
And they have wings like us at home here.

Or... (NOT!!!)

...And look similar to us...

Watch it!
They might have ticks!

*AND WHAT IS...
THEN... THIS???*

The Epilogue

You are the heavenly angels Descending onto Earth.

Oh God!...
She even loves
The... the flowers!!!
Also they are?...
Family members???

Bestselling Author of
"THE BIRDS IN MY LIFE"

The Noble Wilds

By Supreme Master Ching Hai

With a rhythmic, meditative tone, the words of The Noble Wilds flow gracefully along the pages, complemented by the luminous photos of God's creations in nature. Turning the pages, one is transported to Amoura, the place where "the lady" lives and is visited by cherished beings of the wild.

The "lady" is none other than Supreme Master Ching Hai, and The Noble Wilds is yet another of Her simple but deeply touching gifts. Written, photographed and compiled personally by Master, this precious gem opens the door to a world of unique beauty. Here, the reader can witness firsthand the noble spirit and dedication of our co-inhabitants whose homes are under the open sky –the swan, the goose, the squirrel, the beaver and even a tiny garden snail.

Although generally shy of humans, these animals allow themselves to be photographed, and indeed can even be seen eagerly approaching "the lady's" gentle offering of favorite foods. The love conveyed is unlike any other – full of dignity and grace, yet as deep and enduring as the eternal.

In the newly released The Dogs in My Life (Volumes 1 & 2), the first publication lovingly written and personally designed by Supreme Master Ching Hai, readers will re-discover the simplicity of love and rejoice in the sincerity of friendship, as exhibited by the 10 canine friends, with names like Benny, Lucky, Happy, Goody, and Hermit. Learn about the Scholar, Fruity, Princissa, Chip Ahoy, the Shadow Hunter, and others; listen to their engaging tales. They all have diverse life stories and distinctive personalities, yet their devotion for their "human pet" is unequivocal, and their humor, intelligence and many other noble qualities are truly from the same source.

Read The Dogs in My Life, and fall in love with some the most special beings on Earth.

Recommendations from Readers Worldwide

Ph.D. Chia-Fu Chou, biophysicist, Arizona State University, USA: From a biophysicist's perspective, there is enough evidence to show that all living beings, down to single cells, can communicate at least among the same species in response to environmental changes, despite the fact we still do not fully understand the languages they use.

In her newly published book, the Supreme Master Ching Hai reveals that, to our surprise, a human being can have direct communications with other animal friends living on earth, in this case, her adopted birds. She demonstrated the 'codes' of communicating with these lovely birds: simply by warm hugs, intimate dialogues, and hearted cares. This revelation raises an age-old question: What is the common spirit of all living beings? We still have a long way to go to address this question by current science practices. This book now provides a stimulating way to look at it again...

Ben Kong, Buddhist monk, Korea:

*The birds in my life,
my most beloved in heaven and earth.
While you are chirping, my ears move.
While you are singing, my heart dances,
and I forget who I am.
You are a blessing from God.
Because of you,
I begin to treasure the value of life.
I don't know how to say "Thank you,"
except to show you my love.
This book is steeped in love and the meaning of life.
I'm grateful for the friends God gave us.*

Hiroko Ichiba, creative education designer, Japan:

*Let me join your rainbow world.
Let me see the vast sky, through your baby-like eyes.
Oh! The cutest friends, God made you with all glory.
Let me fly with your wings of light..
Let me sleep in your innocent dream.*

"The Birds in My Life" Global Readers' Comments from Amazon.com

 "Renewed hope!", Actress Marian Hailey-Moss - New York, USA:
*When I opened the book, I had wings;
When I read the book, I soared;
When I closed the book, I had renewed hope for our world.*

* "This book brings us a wealth of insights with profound feelings to the nature of birds", Chrystal:

I feel that I am lucky to have read this book. Among the twenty two species of birds, some are given individual names with special meanings. For example, Brighty, Sunny, and Cheery are the names given to the birds so that they could enjoy a life full of happiness and good spirits. Free Joy is always excited about life whereas Mei Mei was given this name because of her quality of intelligence. Each species has its own characteristic.

I hope that more people will read this very beneficial and valuable book, The Birds in My Life. If you are thinking about buying a good book for your collection or as a gift to your children, or family members, I highly recommend this book.

* "A great gift for those with birds as pets", Jennifer L:

This book reveals how each bird has its own character and personality. They are intelligent beyond our imagination. They can express very well their feelings and thoughts. They are amazing and loving creatures. This is a must have book for those with birds as pets.

* "A beautiful journey", Matts118:

A beautiful journey into the minds and souls of God's feathered creations. The book is full of color; each page is like a piece of art. Thank you.

* "The Birds in My Life", LT - San Jose, California, USA

The book The Birds in My Life written by Supreme Master Ching Hai is a beautiful book that brings readers into a different dimension, one of love and joy. Love is not limited to human beings but extends to other creatures that also walk the same planet. Feelings of joy arise, as each character in the book touches your heart and fills you with laughter. This is a beautiful book and Master Ching Hai is an amazingly, beautifully loving lady. These books are truly enjoyable to read by all ages. I would recommend everyone to add them to their home library.

* "Living in the Light", S. Meissner:

It's a great book to give to everyone on your gift list for the holidays, especially for kids. My daughter loves it!!

* "Touches my heart!" , "Galax" - Victoria, Mexico:

The book The Birds in My Life written by the Supreme Master Ching Hai touches my heart, really! You must read it and enjoy it.

* "Great gift for the holidays", Miyune - USA:

It's worth your money! The photos are high quality. There are very cute poems which are very easy to understand, yet in-depth. There is a unique story on each bird's life, personality and the message it wants to bring to humankind.

* "Marvels!", Linda G. - Illinois, USA:

The Birds in My Life is truly an eye opener for modern readers. It unveils the secret of the birds' inner world and we see them as soulful beings, with raw emotions and divine dignity. It helps bridge the connection between humans and feathered friends like the Native Americans, or our ancestors, used to have. It's truly a precious gift from an enlightened being to this world.

* "Don't miss such a beautiful and colorful book!" , Jun - Hong Kong:

It is amazing to have a book like The Birds in My Life by the Supreme Master Ching Hai. I really felt the depth of understanding of how they felt and perceive the world that I had never known before.

* "Good for my daughter", Jean Tomlin - New Mexico, USA:

I love this book! It's so interesting and full of love. My daughter loves it too! She said that it is her best birthday present!

* "Birds in My Life", Ron - Corona, California, USA:

This is a wonderful book. This book crosses the bridge between human and birds. Supreme Master Ching Hai shows us the human sides of these birds. Each bird has their own personality. Each bird has longings and feelings just like us. I really recommend this book to everyone I know. People of all ages can enjoy this book.

* "Very interesting to read, to know and to learn about birds", T.N. - Houston, Texas, USA:

I loved this book. I enjoyed reading it very much. It is very helpful for those who want to know about the world of birds, as I did. Through this book, I understand more about birds' lives and their habits. In short, I strongly recommend reading this interesting book.

* The book, "The Birds in My Life", Minhuy - Tampa, Florida, USA:

The book The Birds in My Life written by the Supreme Master Ching Hai is very beautiful, colorful and attractive. The special love between Supreme Master Ching Hai and the birds in this book touched my heart very much. I don't have any dog or bird in my house. Maybe I will keep this book in my life because I love the Supreme Master Ching Hai and these Birds.

* "Wow! Bird poet!", "Golden Age Light" - Texas, USA:

This book really opens my eyes and heart to the inner beauty and intelligence of the lovely birds. The poem by Laguna (the bird poet) is simply marvelous, and cute too! She describes the author's hair as "golden feather..." Kids and anyone with a young heart will fall in love with this book. Highly recommended: The Birds in My Life!

* "Fabulous book for young or old", Rui Wang:

All of our family members love this book. This book has been my youngest son's favorite night time story book. He is in kindergarten now; he could read most of the books. He keeps reading it again and again. I love this book not only because of its richness in color, but most importantly, its loving, compassionate message that the book conveys. Every time I read it, I feel lots of love filling my heart. Absolutely, it is one of the best books for parents to share with our children.

If you have pets, try to "listen"; they will lead you into their world, guarded secretly since the beginning of creation!

I wish we could all understand others like birds, and treat them as we would ourselves...

They are so sensitive in their emotional relationships, and in the atmosphere they are surrounded with. Their companion and friends mean a lot to them, sometimes as life itself, their loyalty is so incredible! They suffer loss and sorrow much like we do.

All who have birds should consider their feeling and have respect for their dignity and love.

~The Supreme Master Ching Hai
